GRANDMOTHERS GET A GRILLING

They're as Flippant and Foolish as the Girls and They are Old Enough to Know Better, Says Mrs. Bright.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 26.—Everyone picks on the girls, and there's grandmother cavorting about dressed up like Flossie, the Flirtatious Flapper.

It isn't fair, according to the mothers who are here today for the 25th annual convention of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Associations.

"Sweet sixteen" had her innings today and grandmother went on the grill when delegates to the convention aired their views on dress reform.

"We should begin with grandmother," said Mrs. Orville T. Bright of Chicago. "When women of 65 walk the streets in skirts that come nearly to their knees and with rouge on their cheeks, what can we expect from the girls? Viewing them from the rear, you can't tell grandmothers nowadays from the 16-year-old girls.

"It's both pathetic and disgusting to see old women who ought to know better with skirts so short you can see their silk-stockinged legs above their ankles. I am not one who thinks grandmothers should sit in the corner and fold their hands, but it is sad to see them trying to compete with silly girls in their dress. It makes one long for the dear old grandmother of the past with her caps and fichus.

"It is not only grandmother but mother who should practice dress reform before preaching to the girls."

Giggly Geraldine may giggle at this but let her take warning that it doesn't mean, notwithstanding her scandalous grandmother, that she can go to school all rouged and silk-stockinged and everything. Not if the National Congress of Mothers has anything to say about it.

The congress, which represents three hundred thousand mothers, and fathers and teachers, and has delegates attending its convention here from 40 states, is agreed on the following platform of dressiness for high school girls:

No rouge or powder.
No silk stockings
No narrow skirts.
No high heels

Many of the delegates advocate a uniform dress but the majority say "appropriate dress" is enough to urge with the common sense of mothers to decide what is appropriate and what is not.

"Better films" will also be discussed at the convention, which was opened this morning by Mrs. Milton P. Higgins of Massachusetts, the national president. The convention will declare for the single standard of morality as part of its health program.

SAVE $200,000 FOR STATE.

Eight Employment Offices Closed and Four Consolidated.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., April 26.—Announcement of the abolishing of eight employment offices up state and the consolidation of four offices in New York city was made today by Commissioner Henry D. Sayer of the department of labor. The offices abolished are in Yonkers, Schenectady, Utica, Elmira, Jamestown, Niagara Falls, Watertown and Dunkirk.

With other changes made in existing offices a saving to the state annually of between $200,000 and $250,000 will be effected.

Offices will be maintained in New York, Brooklyn, Albany, Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo.

All of the offices abolished by Commissioner Sayer's order today were established through cooperations with the United States employment service during the war and came into existence as a war measure.

"On account of the returning soldier problem following the war," Commissioner Sayer stated, "it was necessary to keep up these various offices. The acute need for such services having passed, it does not seem proper to make a charge upon the whole state in the matter of handling private employment in these various cities."

CHAIN ACROSS RAILS.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Providence, R. I., April 26.—Railroad authorities today are conducting a rigid investigation of the attempt to wreck a Providence-bound passenger train between Worcester, Mass., and Lake Quinsigamond Junction by placing a heavy chain across the rails. Unable to bring his train, which was making 40 miles an hour, to a halt, Engineer Getchell managed to diminish its speed that it jolted over the obstruction without leaving the rails. In addition to five passenger coaches the train carried two heavy steel express cars with valuable express, one for Pittsburgh and the other two for Washington.

PLANS TO COLLECT BRITISH DEBT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 26.—Funding of the British debt of $5,000,000,000 due the United States will not wait upon settlement of German reparations, nor any other foreign or domestic fiscal problems, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon declared today.

The state department soon will notify Great Britain that this government is ready to proceed with the negotiations to convert the demand notes held by the treasury into long time obligations. This government is ready to begin the discussions, Secretary Mellon said, and speed them to a conclusion.

Lord Chalmers probably will sail at an early date from London and handle the question for England, probably with the assistance of the British ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes.

Great Britain, it now develops, has for some time been eager to press the debt question to a settlement, but has been compelled to wait pending the formulation of a definite policy on the debts of Europe by the president and his cabinet.

Secretary Mellon's discussion of the debt question today left no doubt that this government's policy has been determined although no official disclosure was made either of the plan which the treasury may offer, or of the mode of procedure which probably will be followed. Secretary Mellon will be the active negotiator for the United States. He has devoted great study to the whole problem and is eager for an adjustment that will meet with favor among the American people.

Under the liberty loan acts it would be impossible for this government to extend the maturities of the British debt beyond 1947. At the treasury it is expected the debt settlement would provide that the British government shall in the near future begin prompt payment of the interest, amounting alone to $250,000,000 a year, and also include a provision for gradual curtailment of the principal of the debt.

SIMONS WILL GO TO WASHINGTON

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, April 26.—Dr. Walter Simons, the German foreign minister, who has been guiding the difficult indemnity course of his government, is expected to go to Washington as the German ambassador to the United States when peace is declared between America and Germany, according to persistent reports in the reichstag lobby today.

Dr. Simons's health has become impaired and he is said to be anxious to resign as foreign minister as soon as the reparations problem is out of the way. Even some of the staunchest supporters of the foreign minister favor his resignation on account of the bitter opposition his policies have aroused among the industrial group.

"JUST LIKE A MOVIE."

Girl Sacrifices Reputation To Furnish Divorce Evidence.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, April 26.—The strange tale of a pretty girl plotting to sacrifice her own reputation so as to enable her chum to obtain a divorce was unfolded before Supreme Court Justice Tierney today.

Justice Tierney, after listening to the story, exclaimed:

"Why, it's just like a movie I saw last week."

The plaintiff and intended beneficiary of the alleged scheme was Mrs. Grace Lozier Betts, of this city, who is suing Arthur W. Betts, collar manufacturer of Troy, for absolute divorce.

Testimony disclosed that Betts had met the young woman of the self-sacrificing role at the home of his father-in-law, John B. Lozier, at Oradell, N. J., one Sunday and a few days later made an engagement to meet her at the Grand Central Terminal, following which they went to a hotel.

Betts and the young woman had been in the hotel room but a few minutes when a private detective burst in, armed with a divorce summons. Betts admitted this part of the testimony but declared as soon as he reached the hotel the girl's demeanor quickly changed and that the allegations of misconduct were erroneous, for there was nothing more serious than the drinking of a bottle of ginger ale.

Lozier said he pointed out to his son in law the young woman the took to the hotel, when she arrived at the railway station. Betts said he made the engagement with the girl at her suggestion.

"The girl was willing to sacrifice her reputation to enable her chum to get rid of her husband," remarked Judge Tierney. "It is one case in ten thousand."

The justice endeavored to effect a reconciliation. There was no suggestion that Lozier or his daughter conspired with the girl to trap Betts. No decision was reached in the case.

American Legion County Committee.

A meeting of the county committee of the American Legion was held Monday afternoon and Frank Finley was elected to fill the unexpired term of Walter Gill, who has resigned as county treasurer. It is was also voted to donate $10 to the state committee for the decoration of graves on Memorial Day.

FRENCH READY TO OCCUPY RUHR

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, April 26.—Despite the fact that Germany's latest indemnity proposals, now in the hands of the American state department, have not yet been made public, France today continued her plans for occupation of the German Ruhr district as a penalty to enforce the original reparations demands of the allies.

French experts departed for London this morning to discuss further details of the plan for occupation of the Ruhr district. The French have taken strong hope from Premier Lloyd-George's announcement in the British parliament yesterday that Great Britain will support France in the occupation of the Ruhr district if the German indemnity proposals prove unsatisfactory.

It has been definitely decided that the supreme council will meet in London on Saturday. The meeting probably will last four or five days owing to the importance of the vast questions under discussion.

The first question to be taken up will be German reparations but it is probable that the council also will discuss the Silesian plebiscite result, Near East questions and possibly Yap mandate.

There is a possibility that the allied reply to the latest American note to France and Great Britain regarding Yap island will be framed at this meeting.

France, it is learned, is prepared to occupy the German coal mines in the Ruhr district upon an hour's notice in the event that the German reparations proposals are deemed unacceptable.

While it is not definitely known if the United States will be represented at the supreme council meetings hope was expressed that American representatives will be present even if the German proposals are held by the entente to be unacceptable.

All eyes are now turned toward the United States, not only to learn the contents of the German note, but also to ascertain what attitude President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes will adopt toward it.

Public opinion and parliament strongly support Premier Briand and it is held that France must take guarantees before accepting Germany's word on indemnity.

Belief is frankly expressed in certain quarters that the German proposals, so far as they have been revealed unofficially are inadequate. Little if any hope is held by members of the reparations commission that Germany will comply with the allies' latest demand that she hand over to the allies 1,000,000,000 gold marks by Saturday. German indemnity commissioners went on record as stating that it is "legally and technically impossible" for Germany to meet this demand.

The meeting which will open in London on Saturday will be an "all-allied" affair. It was stated here that there is no question of inviting German delegates to London.

WHAT BAND WILL PLAY AT POINT?

It is expected that the board of public works will take up the question of band music at the next meeting. Last season the contract to furnish the music at Kingston Point Park and the other city parks was awarded to the newly organized Citizens' Band. This season it is understood that there is another musical organization in the field seeking to land the contract. Previous to the Citizens' Band playing in the parks the music was furnished by the Colonial City Band, of which Prof. Muller is the director. It is likely that all three musical organizations will submit bids. As the park opens on Decoration Day in May the time for awarding the band contract will soon be here. At the time the board opened the bids for the concessions at Kingston Point Park a bid was received from Joshua DuBois representing the new band organization, but it was not opened as the board was not ready to take up the question of band music at that time.

GUARANTEE 40 WEEKS OF WORK

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 26.—A guarantee of 40 weeks' work each year to all regular employes is one of the features of the arbitral award made in the wage contest between the Cleveland Ladies' Garment Manufacturers and their employes.

Manufacturers are required to establish a fund from which regular employes temporarily out of work shall be paid two-thirds of their weekly wage and given one week's vacation each year with full pay.

The award was at once accepted by the garment manufacturers and its acceptance next Tuesday by the garment workers' union is predicted by union leaders.

Wage reductions of from 9½ to 13½ per cent were accepted.

Novak Paid $5 Fine.

Chester F. Novak of No. 12 East Chestnut street was arrested Monday afternoon by Motorcycle Officer Sager on a charge of speeding twenty-eight miles an hour on Albany avenue. In police court this morning he pleaded guilty and was fined $5.

ELWYN TRIAL NOW IN PROGRESS

Charge Of Manslaughter Against Driver of Automobile That Killed Charles Wolven At Woodstock—Smith Brothers Turned Loose.

County court re-convened Monday afternoon with County Judge Fowler presiding. District Attorney Traver moved the discharge of Henry and William Smith, who have been confined to the county jail since December 18, last. The Smith brothers were first sent to jail for breaking into a building and removing property. They were paroled in the custody of Philip Schantz of Highland and obtained work in the town of Lloyd. Shortly after they broke their parole and went to the town of Rochester where they threatened to burn the buildings of their uncle and do him bodily harm. As there was no appearance against them Monday afternoon they were discharged.

District Attorney Traver moved the trial of the indictment of The People of the state of New York against Fred Elwyn, charged with manslaughter in having caused the death of Charles Wolven of Woodstock on the evening of October 15, last. Mr. Wolven was assistant superintendent of the Kingston city water works.

At the time of the accident Mr. Elwyn and a party of friends were returning home from Kingston in Mr. Elwyn's Buick automobile which was being driven by defendant. When near the Riseley boarding house on the state road just below the village of Woodstock the car struck Charles Wolven who with his son-in-law, Percy Hill, were walking to Bearsville to a lodge meeting. Mr. Wolven was struck and dragged some distance and when Dr. Downer arrived a short time later found the man had been almost instantly killed.

Several different versions of the accident were told at the time by people in the neighborhood. One is that Mr. Wolven was crossing from one side of the road to the other at the time he was struck. Percy Hill, who was with Mr. Wolven, claims that they were both on the right hand side of the roadway and near the guard rail. Mr. Wolven was carrying a cake to the lodge at the time he was struck and the cake was found near the right side of the road, about 70 feet from where the body lay. At the coroner's inquest held before Coroner Lasher witnesses testified that there was an odor of liquor on Elwyn's breath shortly after the accident.

William H. Grogan and Andrew J. Cook appear for Mr. Elwyn and District Attorney Traver and Assistant District Attorney Brooks for The People.

A number of jurors were examined during the afternoon and when court recessed but three jurors had been selected to sit on the case. They were Edward Vandemark of Kerhonkson; Hiram Graham of Hardenberg; and Edgar Goodwin of Saugerties.

Before court adjourned for the day an extra panel of 40 jurors were ordered ordered drawn in order to have sufficient jurors from which to select a jury. The names drawn are:

Richard A. Devine	Kerhonkson
Farrell Hugh	High Falls
C. E. Boorth	Wallkill
F. A. Gersch	Highland

F. S. Terwilliger	Wallkill
Charles Donovan	Highland
Julius Jahn	Ulster Park
Fred Lawrence	High Falls
G. C. Winchell	Olive Bridge
A. Rowe	Kingston, R. F. D. 2.

This morning the examination of jurors was continued. Four more jurors were selected, making a total of seven so far selected. The four jurors selected this morning are: Paul Kamann of Kingston, James E. Hoos of Tillson, Jerome Terwilliger of The Vly and George H. Owens of the town of Hardenbergh. The forty extra jurors drawn Monday afternoon reported this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

BUILDING COST RETARDS GROWTH

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 26.—Both labor and material costs must drop before America's shortage of 1,000,000 homes can be overcome, Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, said today.

"There must be a recession away from the war level of costs," said Hoover. "Readjustments in this as well as other industries are necessary to a revival in construction work, to relieve the congestion felt over the entire country."

Reports to the commerce department reflect a gradual decline in building material prices. Experts agree that there will be a continued drop in these prices. Lower prices have produced more activity in building operations but officials declared that a revival in building depends upon the expected declines to be observed further in material prices, and expected reductions in wages of laborers in the building trades.

Epitomized, the view of Secretary Hoover is that the days of the $20 silk shirt and wages which have made such prices possible are passed and the new era demands stabilization all along the line.

FOLKS NOW LIVE IN TENTS HERE

With the first of May but a few days away the housing situation in Kingston still continues critical and many families who have been notified to vacate the first of May have been unable to find suitable living apartments to remove to. As stated before City Marshal Rice has served about seventy-five dispossess notices on tenants to vacate May 1, and in addition to that landlords have also notified tenants that the house they resided in had been sold and possession was to be given the first of the month.

Some families unable to find rooms have adopted the simple expedient of camping out. Purchasing a tent they have erected it on a large vacant lot near the outskirts of the city and have gone to housekeeping in the tent. Nowadays when one traveling along a street sees a tent erected it should not be taken for granted that it is the tent of a gypsy for the chances are that it is a local family who have been forced to adopt that means of keeping a roof over their head.

It is also said that there has been a general tendency on the part of landlords to raise the rent, and those tenants who have been fortunate enough not to have to vacate have been notified that the rent has been raised several more dollars a month. There has never been a time in the history of Kingston when the rentals have been as high as they are at the present time.

RACING MOTORBOAT MAKING GOOD TIME

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, April 26.—The fifty-foot, ocean going, 900 horsepower motorboat, Gar 2nd junior, piloted by its owner, Garfield A. Wood of Detroit, was today speeding from Savannah, Ga., to Norfolk, Va., on the second leg of its 1,240 mile record-making dash from Miami, Fla., to New York. Word received today at the offices of Motorboating, whose editor, C. F. Chapman, is aboard the Gar, corrected reports that said the boat hoped to beat the Havana Special, the crack Atlantic Coast Line train, from Miami into New York.

What Wood is endeavoring to do, it was stated, is to beat the actual running time of the train, which the craft is doing so far. The boat is being run only about 18 hours out of twenty-four. The boat has no relief crew, while the train gets a new crew every few hundred miles.

Tomorrow the boat will leave Norfolk for the last dash of its trip to New York. If present running time is maintained, the boat will do the trip in less hours actual operation than the train, it was stated.

CONFERENCE WITH MARINE UNIONS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 26.—Forecast of government intervention in the marine strike, called for May 1, was given today when Admiral Benson, chairman of the United States Shipping Board, issued a call for a conference between the marine unions and the steamship interests, to be held here tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

It is probable that Secretary of Labor Davis and Secretary of Commerce Hoover will be invited to sit in the conference. Secretary Davis and Admiral Benson have had several conferences on the shipping situation and it is understood here that they have worked out a plan for intervention in the event that the interests involved fail to forestall a strike.

Dublin, April 26.—Bullets again swept part of Dublin last night. Two civilians were killed just before the curfew sounded.

CITY LAW RULES COUNTY OFFICERS

"Daylight Saving" Ordinance of The Common Council Applies To County Officers Located in This City.

County Clerk C. K. Loughran has received the following memorandum from Charles D. Newton, attorney general of the state of New York, which is of especial interest to people in the towns of Ulster county that have taken no action toward adopting daylight saving:

All courts and public officers located in a city or village which has adopted an ordinance as provided in section 91 of the General Municipal Law are to be regulated by such ordinance.

On April 20, 1921, the governor signed the Swift bill which amends Section 91 of the General Municipal Law as added by Chapter 70 of the Laws of 1921. The amendment strikes from the section the phrase "of the city or village" so that the statute now provides as follows:

> " all courts and public officers and legal and official proceedings within the city or village shall be regulated by such ordinance, notwithstanding the provisions of section 52 of the General Construction Law."

In view of this amendment it appears that it is the legislative intent that all courts and all public officers located in a city or village which has by ordinance adopted the advance "standard time," as provided in section 91 of the General Municipal Law which became effective on April 20, 1921, are to be governed thereby.

Dated April 21, 1921.

MAY PUBLISH FAIR PRICE LISTS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 26.—Fair price lists may be published by the government as a consumers guide on the cost of commodities. The commerce department is giving serious consideration to the plan, in connection with the work of reorganizing the federal bureau on statistics, Secretary Hoover said today.

"Retail prices on manufactured articles still are unreasonably high in many lines," said Secretary Hoover. "Wholesale prices show deep cuts, but the consumer is a long way from getting the benefit of corresponding reductions."

Secretary Hoover cited woolen goods as a sample from lengthy lists on which consumers still are being forced to pay large profits.

"Reduction made by dealers," said Hoover, "are upon a narrow margin, and the prices in many directions still enable dealers to make even more than it was possible during the war inflation."

The government seeks in no way to interfere with the normal processes of business, Hoover said. What it does contemplate, however, is the matter of an accurate determination of manufacturing costs, for the full benefit of the public, and with such wide publication that small buyers can purchase with an intelligent idea of what reasonable prices should be.

I. W. W. FOLLOW LEADER HAYWOOD

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 26.—"Big Bill" Haywood, I. W. W. leader, probably has been followed into unknown parts by some of the forty-seven I. W. W.'s who were due in Fort Leavenworth prison today, under sentences of conviction for violating the espionage law, it was said at the department of justice.

The department said that while some of the offenders had surrendered at Fort Leavenworth, others probably had given themselves up to United States marshals before midnight last night expecting government passage money to the federal penitentiary.

The bureau of investigation said its reports were incomplete and that another day might elapse before it could definitely ascertain how many of the I. W. W.'s have jumped their bond, and fled to Russia or other parts of the world.

No further doubt exists that William G. Haywood is in Moscow. This point was cleared up yesterday, officials said, by definite advices from members of Haywood's family.

GERMAN NOTE IS IN WASHINGTON

No Statement Made as to its Contents, But Cabinet Will Discuss It—Situation is Delicate.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 26.—While state department officials maintained silence today concerning the German note on reparations, it was learned that the communication came in during the night and that its contents probably will be the chief subject discussed by President Harding and his cabinet when they meet later in the day.

It is understood that the German communication is lengthy and considerable time is necessary for its decoding by the departmental experts.

It was believed that the work of decoding would be sufficiently advanced during the day to enable the cabinet to consider the salient portions of the German proposals, at least.

Although no hint was allowed to go forth concerning the exact nature of the German offer, the forecasts cabled from abroad—that Germany is willing to compromise on a basis of approximately 200,000,000,000 marks, were believed to be correct in the main.

It seemed certain today that the state department will not make public the German proposals until they have been considered at some length by President Harding, Secretary Hughes and other responsible officials, upon who will devolve the task of transmitting them to the allied powers or sending them back to Berlin.

The situation is regarded as a peculiarly delicate one by officials here, but confidence was expressed today that the ultimate solution will be generally satisfactory. It is accepted as a fact by officials that Great Britain would be very reluctant to see France carry through her avowed plans to seize additional German territory if the German proposals are not to her liking. Italy would be even more reluctant, it is believed. Thus if the German proposals are as favorable as forecasts from abroad indicated, it is believed that little time will be lost here in communicating them to the allied ambassadors.

There is reason to believe that the general views of the allies are sufficiently well known to the state department, so that unless unforeseen contingencies arise little time will be lost in handling the communication for the cause.

There s some argument in diplomatic quarters today over the degree of "responsibility" which the United States accepts in transmitting the German proposal.

By some it is held that this government is merely acting as a transmitting agent for the benefit of all concerned, and that the American role is simply that of a benevolent and interested spectator. On the other hand, it has been pointed out that in forwarding the German terms to the allies this government acknowledges that it considers them of sufficient worth to provide a basis for renewed discussion. Thus, it was pointed out by diplomats today, by the mere act of forwarding Germany's offer, this government indicates mild approval, or at least some degree of moral support.

Administration officials, however, are not seriously concerned with this phase of the problem. A settlement is the main objective, officials said today, and not diplomatic niceties.

LONDON HOPEFUL OF GERMAN NOTE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, April 26.—Belief was expressed in foreign offices circles today that the latest German indemnity proposals, which were sent from Berlin to Washington, are sufficiently acceptable to warrant the fullest consideration when the Inter-Allied supreme council meets in this city Saturday.

This belief was apparently based upon a brief summary of the indemnity note received in London from Berlin. How the summary came and its detailed nature were not revealed.

The contents of the German note to the United States are expected to be received from the British embassy at Washington within 24 hours. This will give the British government an opportunity to study the proposals at length before the supreme council meet. Furthermore it will enable Premier Lloyd George to communicate informally with Premier Briand upon the subject before Saturday.

Many prominent Britons, including former Premier Asquith, have united in an appeal that Great Britain refrain from penetrating further into German territory with armed forces. This appeal was contained in a letter addressed to Premier Lloyd George.

The letter was signed by Arthur Henderson, George Nicoll Barnes, J. R. Clynes and Lord Robert Cecil in addition to Mr. Asquith. Henderson, Barnes and Clynes are leaders of the Labor Party. The letter also expressed the hope that an effort be made to settle the whole question of indemnity amicably without resort to force.

LEAGUE POOLING PLAN OPERATIVE

At the meeting of the directors and county presidents of the Dairymen's League held at Utica April 22nd, the sale of the milk of the members who have signed Co-operative pooling contracts was declared operative as of May 1st, and will be sold under the pooling plan From reports received from county presidents it is estimated that there are approximately 73,000 members producing milk at the present time and over 50,000 of these active producers have agreed to let their milk enter the pool May 1st The league has of course made an effort to sell the milk of the non-pooling members also but it is becoming increasingly evident that this is a hard matter as the dealers will hardly know what price to pay these members for their milk. Under the pool four prices are made for all milk which is put into four classes depending upon the use to be made of it, roughly as follows:

Class 1—Fluid milk, $2.30.

Class 2—Plain condensed and ice cream, $2.10.

Class 3—Evaporated, sweet condensed and certain cheeses, $1.80.

Class 4—American cheese and butter, price determined by price of butter and cheese.

These prices have just been set by the directors and have not yet been accepted by the dealers and no pooled or unpooled milk has yet been sold

There is of course no way of telling now how much of the product will be sold and used under any one of the classes or of what the pooled or leveled price will be for May But every effort is being made by every one connected with the league to make things run smoothly at once but it is a huge undertaking in which every member is vitally interested and to which he must give his hearty support.

The directors voted to create a credit department of the co-operative association which will as part of its duties examine carefully the financial standing of dealers to whom milk is sold or expected to be sold and that this will be the means of great saving to members who have heretofore sold milk to dealers of no financial standing.

AT THE THEATRES.

"The Hope" at Keeney's—Curwood Story at Opera House.

Adapted from the stage play by Cecil Raleigh and Henry Hamilton, the colossal Drury Lane melodrama, "The Hope," with Jack Mulhall, Ruth Stonehouse, Frank Elliott and Marguerite de la Mott is showing at Keeney's tonight. Mack Sennett's comedy, "The Unhappy Finish," is also programmed Tomorrow the American Beauty Katherine MacDonald in "Passion's Playground," a wonderful story of the playground of Europe's aristocracy and America's wealth—Monte Carlo, and "The Guests of Hercules."

James Oliver Curwood has more than repeated—he has surpassed the mastery achieved in "Back to God's Country" and has given the lovers of the cinema art perhaps the greatest animal and human interest story it has ever had in "Nomads of the North" showing at the Opera House again tonight and tomorrow. It is taken in the far north. Larry Semon in "The Headwaiter" is also excellent entertainment

Elaine Hammerstein in "The Woman God Sent" is featured at the Auditorium tonight Also the Hallroom Boys in "Millionaire Paupers"

ARBOR DAY SUGGESTIONS.

Practical Knowledge of Trees as an Asset May be Given.

With the approach of Arbor Day two suggestions for schools of the state are offered by the New York State College of Forestry as an excellent means of interesting the coming generations in trees and the importance of the vital problems in forestry. While either idea may be applied at other times school activities at this season make the suggestions opportune.

Recently all the high schools of Cattaraugus county were visited by Prof. W. E. Sanderson, of the Forestry College faculty. Prof. Sanderson gave from one to four lectures daily, his itinerary being arranged by the superintendent of the Y. M. C. A. This plan can be followed at any time with beneficial educational and entertainment results.

The Lincoln Junior High School of Syracuse has just arranged for cooperative work with the New York State College of Forestry for the improvement of the grounds about the school. Contractors have just finished a $300,000 addition to the buildings and the grounds have been left in an unattractive condition Prof. Arnold of the landscape department of the forestry college will draw a plan for the beautification of the grounds. This work will be inaugurated Arbor Day when the 1,300 children of the school under the direction of Principal James A. Shea will plant elm trees on the play grounds. The mayor of the city or another city official will deliver an appropriate address and a brief talk on trees will be given by some members of the college faculty.

The Forestry College offers free advice and other assistance to schools or the officials of school buildings regarding their landscape problems, or the planting of decorative shrubs, individual trees and memorial groves.

Acting Secretary.

COAL FACTS—1921

NO. 3

STORAGE

To begin with, storage at the point of production is impracticable. Many mines are on hillsides and storage space is not available. To provide space for large stocks elsewhere would add a very considerable amount to the price you have to pay for coal

Therefore, coal must be put on cars, shipped to market and taken in comparatively small quantities by the consumers. You not only have, in the aggregate, the greatest storage capacity, but the best and most economical.

You can see that, unless you order coal, the retailer cannot in turn contract for your supply, and the mines will not be able to operate.

Just exactly what has happened. Production today is only 45 per cent of full-time capacity.

Whistle Impaired Milk Supply.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Tilton, N. H., April 26.—Tilton's new fire whistle which emits a sound which is a faithful imitation of that made by a distressed calf has got to go. Every time the whistle blows all the cows in Tilton, Canterbury and adjacent towns begin to gallop around in search of a presumably suffering calf. In many cases their digestions have begun to suffer with a resultant loss of milk.

Scent of Vanilla.

The wood of a tree of Brazil is a soft yellow wood so delightfully scented with vanilla that one is tempted to eat it, says the American Forestry Magazine.

First Worsted Cloth.

The first cloth of the texture now called worsted was spun at Worsted, in Norfolk, England, in 1340. It was first used in making stockings and worn by the poorer classes.

Teeth of Various Creatures.

Rabbits have 28 teeth, and rats and mice 20 each. Sheep and oxen possess the same number as humans. Frogs have no teeth at all on the lower jaw, and snails are quite toothless. The shark has several rows of teeth, the outer ones being replaced as they become worn, at the expense of the inner rows. The pike is provided with what might be called hinged teeth, as they certainly can be turned inward to enable it to hold its prey firmly.

WORDS IN SEASON.

It is a strange spectacle, these "all-American day" celebrations with a view to reassert this country's loyalty to the cause for which it fought in the world war. One would think there could be no need of such reassertion within so short a time, only two and a half years, after the great struggle. But there is need, at least in the cities and states with a great foreign-born or hyphenated population. The enemy though conquered in the field of arms, has never accepted defeat and is still fighting in our midst by means of sinister and cunning propaganda designed to win the real victory in disguised forms. It is no imaginary menace that caused General Pershing to say at the "all-American" celebration in Philadelphia: "Nearly three years have passed and we again hear the murmur of disloyalty. It is time to ask ourselves whether our patriotism is to stand mute while this poisonous propaganda dwarfs our conscience. Shall we turn our backs on our friends of yesterday? Are we expected to condone the wanton destruction in France and Belgium and on the high seas? Have sacrifices of American blood already been forgotten?"

A very pertinent question can be stated as follows: Can this republic endure if it is to remain permanently only part all-American and part—a large part—composed of hyphenated groups looking upon America as a mere pasture in which to reap material harvests while devoting themselves to the political interests of the countries of Europe? "If this republic," General Pershing said further and well, "is to remain the land of the free and continue to grow in strength and usefulness, both the native and foreign born, who exercise the right of suffrage, must be thoroughly schooled in the meaning of democracy and in the duties and obligations of the citizens."

A "DRY" TURKEY.

As Mohammed outlawed alcohol nearly thirteen centuries ago and the Koran still forbids strong drink, the outside world would have supposed that a prohibition law would be superfluous in Turkey. But it seems that the national assembly at Angora not long ago passed a law prohibiting the consumption of alcoholic beverages in Turkish territory. Concerning this law a magazine published in Switzerland by and for the Turkish Nationalists is thus quoted: "Naturally, all is not finished by voting a prohibitive bill. The contraband is still carried on and the rich classes in this way still procure drink. But it is, on the other hand, beyond doubt that the people in general do not poison themselves as before, because of the very great difficulty in finding spirituous liquors and the high price of this kind of drink. The number of the alcohol consumers has diminished in the proportion of more than 50 per cent."

Notwithstanding the fact that its prohibition law is supported by time-honored religious precept, it would appear that Turkey has an enforcement problem on its hands very similar to that of the United States. Apparently the Turks have been encouraged by prohibition in America to attempt to force their religion into practice through legal enactment, for the magazine quoted above says further that "tendencies for prohibition are showing themselves in Europe following the example of the 'dry' United States." It looks as if "dry" America—though not as "dry" as it might be within its own borders—is exerting a certain amount of influence in far lands.

TRUE BUT BELATED.

The Constitution recognizes the right of the people of each state to control their own affairs, assuming that self-government is the ideal, but, as Federal Judge Dickinson points out, there has long been a lessening of the old popular devotion to local self-government and to the restriction of Federal activities to their proper field. The attitude of the people has changed, says Judge Dickinson, with the result that Federal departments, commissions, bureaus, etc., have multiplied almost beyond number "with an enormously increased cost of government, a heavy burden of taxation, decreased efficiency, decreased accomplishment, and the loss on the part of the people of all desire and capacity for self-government." Formerly we were "jealous of our right to govern ourselves," now we "seem unwilling to take the trouble," eagerly thrusting into the hands of an encroaching Federal government duties and problems which it was originally intended for the States themselves to perform and solve.

Judge Dickinson cites the amendment providing for direct election of Senators, the prohibition amendment and the women suffrage amendment as examples of this tendency and as Federal invasions of State jurisdiction. But the real revolution came with the Civil War amendments, and it has been gathering strength ever since. Dominant parties and factions have long been unwilling to await action by States and have repudiated the old principle of home rule in their haste to gain their ends quickly throughout the country by means of Federal action. Judge Dickinson utters words of truth and soberness, but so belated, so long after the event or events, that his discussion in great part necessarily partakes of the nature of the purely academic.

PUNITIVE PUBLICITY.

Criticised for giving space to a sensational divorce suit involving socially prominent persons, the New York Times ventures to suggest that its critics might change their views in the presence of conditions under which persons could disregard public sentiment and the law without fear of newspaper publicity, and adds: "While arguments certainly can be made in support of printing in newspapers nothing offensive to delicate minds, there are also the arguments upholding the effects, both deterrent and punitive, of publicity on the wrongdoers. That these effects are both deterrent and punitive cannot be questioned, and these qualities were never more strikingly illustrated than in the far most important of the current scandals. The newspaper that kept silent in regard to that scandal not only would have been a newspaper of the poorest sort, but it would have failed to meet the strongest obligation that rests upon the press, and it would have exposed itself to justified suspicion of yielding to the influence that can be exerted by the possessors of great wealth."

It might with point be added that the fear of "gossip" acts as a deterrent as well as the fear of published exposure. Gossip sometimes aims to do and often does much harm, but there is in it not infrequently a concern for public decency and to that extent is as wholesome in quality as it is in its effects. The motives of those who "never gossip" are altogether creditable, and yet the persons who thus shut their eyes and ears to public indecency fail to do their small individual part toward strengthening the bulwarks of public decency.

PUT IDLE ACRES TO WORK.

Trees a Profitable Crop for Land Now Useless.

"The cause of the idle acres of the Empire State" is pleaded in a new publication just issued by the New York State College of Forestry, entitled, "Forest Building in New York." This leaflet is a brief, comprehensive treatise on the problems of reforestation and the profits derived therefrom. It is the result of careful research and delving deep into the records of reforestation in New York state, in the United States and in Europe.

The leaflet is instructive to the owner who has hitherto given no study to the problem and encouraging to those who have made a beginning in reforestation. It is evident from the information contained in the pamphlet that forest building through the medium of reforestation is a subject worthy of the attention of all right thinking persons whether they own forested land or not. The publication shows the need is vital, the field is wide, the work is simple and the profits sure. "Forest Building" defines reforestation as an investment and shows that the trees adaptable to use in restoring the waste areas of the state offer a wide choice, both in connection with the type of forest desired and the length of time the individual wishes to set upon the investment. The pamphlet states that the forest builder of today can safely assume that he is investing for a 12 per cent return rather than a 6 per cent return.

The most advanced methods of planting trees is described in plain instructions that will interest the owners of not only woodlots but the owners of homes who desire to beautify their premises with trees.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL LEAGUE OPENING

The opening games of the Grammar School Baseball League got away to a good start yesterday afternoon. The game in the down town section was between Schools 1 and 2. The latter team showed a vast superiority over the Wilbur team, winning more by their opponents weakness than through any special ability of their own. The final score, after a wearisome, drawn out session, was 32 to 3. The only bright spots in the game were a three base hit by Stingle and a home run by McKeown.

The up town game was played at the Athletic Field and was a real baseball game that shows that the younger generation will produce some real ball players within the next few years. Schools 5 and 6 were the rivals, the former winning by a score of 5 to 3.

The lineup and score by innings of the Forsyth Park game follows:

School No. 5—Myers, Cammons, Keuhn, Shulters, Bruck, Amen, Banko, Dunn Glenhurst.

School No. 6—Miles, Embree, Lyons, McAuliffe, Simonette, Terwilliger, Hendickson, Rosa, Lee.

School No. 5 ....1 1 2 0 1—5
School No. 6 ....1 2 0 0 0—3

The lineup and score by innings of the game at Hasbrouck Park follows:

School No. 2—Smith, McKeon, Albrecht, Rice, Steipze, Dickson, Arnet, Stingle, Buddington.

School No. 1—Knego, Collins, Lynch, Ayres, D. Collins, Morgan, Holly, Leffler, Whalen, Butler.

School No. 2 ....10 16 3 3 0—32
School No. 1 .... 1 0 1 0 1— 3

By the end of the week all of the schools will have played and the school league will be well under way. Tuesday's games will be Three vs. Four and Seven vs. Eight. On Wednesday St. Mary's will play their first game against Two. On Friday afternoon One will meet Four and Five will meet Eight.

LEAVING THE LEAGUE.

Governor Asked to Rush Disabled Soldiers' Week Proclamation.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 26.—Wholesale resignations of disabled men from the National Disabled Soldiers' League are indicated by a statement repudiating the organization made by sixty-seven members in New York city, a copy of which has been received at national headquarters of the American Legion.

Four hundred of the 650 New York city members were expected to desert the league within a week, according to Sidney A. Marks, formerly national vice-commander, and Julius S. Berg, who served as New York state treasurer of the organization, who declared that mismanagement of the affairs of the league and failure of its present officers to show the disposition of thousands of dollars collected for the relief of disabled soldiers have resulted in the secession movement.

The statement asks that Governor Miller of New York revoke his designation of "Disabled Soldiers' Week," which has been set for May 29 to June 5 and several petitions are in circulation demanding an investigation of the organization's affairs.

The National Disabled Soldiers' League was formed last August for the purpose of raising a fund to assist ex-service men who had been disabled in the war. Since that time large sums have been been obtained, largely as a result of speeches of George H. Gillen, president of the national organization who is also accused by Berg of opposing the passage of a national compensation bill by congress.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

XL.—MONTANA

THE mention of Montana history immediately brings to mind the Custer Massacre as one of the most dramatic incidents in Indian warfare. It occurred in 1876, the Centennial year, when special emphasis was being laid on the cause of peace throughout the world. The Sioux Indians had been driven into Montana by the gold miners, and the United States government took steps to force them back into their reservations. General Custer, with less than 300 men, set out to round up the tribes which were on the warpath, and at the Little Bighorn river, was ambushed by Sitting Bull and 3,000 warriors. Custer and all his troopers were killed. Soon after this massacre the Indians were defeated and many of them fled to Canada.

Gold was discovered in Montana as early as 1852 by the half-breed Francois Finlay near Hell Gate river. This, however, created little stir and it wasn't until five years later when John Silverthorn discovered gold in quantities, that mining settlements sprang up in the mountains. This region had been part of Nebraska territory, which in 1863 was subdivided and became a portion of Idaho territory. The next year it was organized as the separate Territory of Montana.

Virginia City was the capital and here in 1865 was issued the Montana Post, the first newspaper of the state. In 1874 the capital was changed to Helena and ten years later a state constitution was adopted. The state was not taken into the Union, however, until 1889.

Montana comes from the Spanish adjective meaning "mountainous." Its area is [illegible] square miles, ranking it the third largest state of the Union.

PRIZES FOR ESSAYS ON ROADS

Highway and Highway Transport Education Committee to Conduct Nation Wide Contest Among High School Pupils.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, D. C., April 26.—Various government agencies and national organizations are announcing today the new Good Roads and Highway Transport national essay contest, to be open to all pupils of high school grade. The national prize is a four year scholarship in the university or college chosen by the successful contestant. It is offered by H. S. Firestone, Akron, Ohio.

The contest will be conducted by the Highway and Highway Transport Education Committee, Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, chairman, who announced today rules governing the contest.

Essays, it is said, must be not more than 500 words in length, and must be written on the subject "Good Roads and Highway Transport." All essays must be in the hands of local committees not later than June 15, when local and state committees will begin the task of grading the many thousands of essays expected.

Many local and state prizes are to be announced soon, but, according to the committee, essays winning first honors in local and state contests will be eligible to compete for the four years university scholarship whether local and state prizes are offered or not.

Among government agencies and national organizations cooperating to make the contest successful are the Bureau of Public Roads, of the Department of Agriculture; the Bureau of Education, of the Department of Agriculture; the Bureau of Education, of the Department of the Interior; the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce; the Firestone Ship by Truck Bureau; the National Grange; women's clubs, chambers of commerce and automotive associations everywhere.

The contest is a renewal of Ship by Truck-Good Roads essay contest held among high school students last year, in which more than 200,000 essays were submitted.

Miss Katharine F. Butterfield, pretty 16 year old high school pupil of Weiser, Idaho, was the victor in this contest and is enjoying the scholarship at a famous eastern school. As a result of her conquest, Miss Butterfield will receive a four years' college education.

In addition to the scholarship, Miss Butterfield recently was paid a high honor when she was called to Washington to receive at the hands of President Warren G. Harding a certificate of the scholarship during formal exercises on the White House lawn. Mr. Firestone and members of the Highway and Highway Transport Education Committee, of which he is a member, were present for these exercises, which were photographed and filmed by newsppaers and moving picture news weeklies and shown to hundreds of parents and pupils throughout the country.

Back of the idea of the essay contest is the wish of the Highway Transport Committee and cooperating organizations to bring to the attention of the high school pupils of the country the urgent need for immediate improvement in the national highway system.

Members of the Highway and Transport Committee are: Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, chairman; T. H. MacDonald, Chief, U. S. Bureau of Public Roads; Col. M. M. Patrick, Corps of Engineers, United States Army; Roy D. Chapin, National Automobile Chamber of Commerce; W. S. Keller, president, American Association of State Highway Officials; H. S. Firestone, Rubber Association of America; Dean F. L. Bishop, Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education; Dr Walton C. John, U. S. Bureau of Education, Secretary, and Prof. C. J. Tilden, Yale University, director. The offices of the committee are in the Willard Building, Washington, D. C.

When earth's last picture is dusted,
And the floors are painted and dried;
When the oldest carpet is beaten,
And the youngest spider has died,
We shall rest, and faith we shall need it:
Lie down for a moment or two,
Till the dust on the grand piano
Shall set us to work anew.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

This is the time of year when parsnips are at their best. Some like them cooked with vegetables in a boiled dinner; others like them cooked tender, cut in halves lengthwise and fried brown in good fat, while there are others who think a parsnip fritter is the dish of excellence. To prepare the fritters the vegetable is cooked, then skinned and mashed very fine, seasoned well and a teaspoonful of the mashed parsnip dipped into a fritter batter, then fried in deep fat. These fritters are usually served with some kind of sweet sauce like hot maple syrup.

Cheese Souffle.—Prepare a thick white sauce using one-fourth cupful each of flour and fat with one cupful of milk; when cooked and thick, cool and add one-half cupful of grated cheese, three egg yolks, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of paprika, one-half teaspoonful of onion juice. Mix carefully and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Turn into a well-greased baking dish and set this dish into a pan of hot water; bake in a moderate oven until firm in the center.

Oysters a la Poulet.—Prepare a poulet sauce by adding one and one-fourth cupfuls of milk to six tablespoonfuls of flour, stirring and mixing well before cooking, then cool slightly and add two well-beaten eggs. Take one pint of oysters, toss in a pan until the edges curl, then drain and add to one-half cupful of mushrooms, or the same amount of celery cut in small pieces, one chopped pimento, one hard-cooked egg also chopped, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter seasoned with salt and pepper, and serve in croustades, made by cutting bread into oblongs and hollowing out the centers; then brush with butter and brown in the oven or toast under the gas flame. Decorate the tops with minced parsley.

"Prevention better than cure" applies to battery ills, too!

Get that examination NOW

IN spite of the old proverb, it IS sometimes too late to mend. When plates are buckled and terminals are corroded through neglect or unusually hard service, there is little left for the battery-man to say but "New battery".

Don't let it get that far. Drive around today to the Prest-O-Lite Service Station and have a thorough examination made. Some trifling fault may be uncovered now that may result disastrously if not remedied.

Anyhow, find out. That's what Prest-O-Lite Service Stations are for. You will get courteous treatment and, what is even more important, honest advice.

When you do need a new battery, you'll be glad to know that Prest-O-Lite is back to pre-war prices and that an allowance will be made on your old battery. Get that examination now

SINN FEIN BOAST OF GUERRILLA WAR

In First Official Statement by High Command of the Irish Republican Army, Achievements are Enumerated.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Unusual importance attaches to the following story because it is the first "communique" issued by the high command of the Irish republican army detailing the objectives of the Sinn Fein forces. It reveals that the military organization of the Irish republican army has established a censorship and the document as given out was marked "passed by censor." The Irish military leaders claim to have paralyzed the efficiency of the British military police in Ireland.

Dublin, April 26.—"It is not generally recognized that what is at present going on in Ireland is a war of independence, neither more nor less," said a statement issued today at the headquarters of the Irish republican army and passed by the Sinn Fein military censor. "Events in Ireland can not be understood unless this fact is kept clearly in mind. Ireland is the one nation in Europe that is still under the heel of the foreigner; and the Irish people have made up their minds that they, too, will rid themselves of foreign dominion.

"In its fight for independence the Irish nation is employing as its instrument the Irish republican army——that is to say, the Irish volunteers now formally taken over by the national government. Like any other army the Irish republican army is bound by the national government by an oath of allegiance sworn by the individual volunteer. The text of this oath follows.

"'I ——— do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I do not and shall not yield a voluntary support to any pretended government, authority or power within Ireland hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that, to the best of my knowledge and ability I will support and defend the Irish republic, which is Dail Eireann, against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same, and that I take this obligation freely without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, so help me God.'

"The Irish republican army is carrying out its task according to well defined principles and with a careful estimation of the means at its disposal. It is adopting the measures that in the opinion of its command appear most likely to win and which, in point of fact have, up to the present, justified themselves by the degree of success achieved.

"Having carefully weighed all of the circumstances, the Irish republican army command elected to adopt the methods of guerrilla warfare—suiting that method to the highly developed industrial, social and economic conditions of western Europe. This guerrilla warfare has many characteristics distinguishing it from former wars of a similar type. For the first time the guerrillas have been a highly civilized and keenly intelligent people, and in addition strongly imbued with a living national feeling; finally, in education and culture on an appreciably higher level than their aggressors. Hence, methods calculated to impress and overawe less developed peoples will naturally fail altogether in such a case. And this is so inherently, and quite apart from the fact that such a people is well circumstanced to gain the ear of the civilized world.

"It was only natural that the guerrilla warfare as waged by such a people should aim at organization and system. Concerted action alone could give good results. For this purpose the country is divided into brigade areas. These are sub-divided into battalion areas and these again into company areas. The strength of these various units varies. The Irish republican army command is by no means blind to the precise nature of guerrilla warfare. That command realizes the indecisive nature of such warfare and does not seek immediate results.

"The cost imposed upon England by the Irish war is estimated at 1,000,000 pounds sterling per week—which includes both military and police expenses. Apart from the financial strain the English army is gravely inconvenienced by the special type of operations imposed upon it.

"The Irish republican army can fairly lay claim to the following achievements in 1920:

"1—It has destroyed the efficiency of the Royal Irish Constabulary and thus struck an irreparable blow at English administration in Ireland.

"2—It has militarized the young men of Ireland.

"3—It has pinned in Ireland very serious forces of troops and war materials and thus has in a marked degree hampered the powers of England to interfere in other spheres.

"4—It has inflicted on English prestige very serious blows, both in the ethical sphere and by reason of exhibiting how far England is from being invulnerable."

ELECTION RIOTS IN FIUME.

Defeated d'Annunzio Followers Raise a Rough House.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Milan, April 26.—Two persons were killed and several were wounded in disorders at Fiume following Sunday's election when the anti-d'Annunzio party won by 1,200 votes, said a dispatch from that city today. The victors oppose annexation of Fiume to Italy.

Fighting began when Italian Nationalists (supporters of the former d'Annunzio regime) invaded the government palace and seized and destroyed boxes containing the ballots.

Late Monday the Carabinieri (Italian government troops) occupied public buildings which they still hold.

The result is regarded as condemnation of the former d'Annunzist provisional government and all the d'Annunzists have resigned from the present administration.

Clergymen, Take Notice.

For "Tarsus, the City Where Paul Played as a Boy," a certain country newspaper that I know a thing or two about, came near printing "Tarsus, the City Where Paul Played on a Banjo." Had the banjo bull escaped detection in the proof the readers of a certain weekly might have thought certain publishers were trying to string them. The moral of which is, the writers of church notices should be the least bit careful in preparing copy—the average printer, you know, probably knows more about banjos than he does about Bibles. That banjo break, by the way, would have been very much out of tune and something for esteemed contemporaries to harp upon, hence bringing to the publishers many a fret.—Fort Plain (N. Y.) Standard.

"Good Guy" Patched Him Up.

Little James O'Reilly of 209 Foxhall avenue while playing with some youngsters Sunday afternoon fell against the curb and received an ugly gash above the left eye. Dr. Snyder was called and it was necessary to take several stitches, but James was seen shortly after eating ice cream cones and had reported to his chums, "Dr. Snyder is a good guy."

Roaring Rivers and Fire-Girt Forests—real men and splendid women—beasts of play and beasts of prey. They startle and delight you as only one other backwoods drama ever did.

Lon Chaney, Lewis Stone, Betty Blythe and a Big Cast in

from the novel by
JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD

And what a story!

Picture it! Raoul Challoner with his wife, Nanette, and her baby lost to the world in their little cabin in God's Great Wilderness—happy in their hiding place free from law's injustice, their only friends a big black bear and a wolf-dog. Then comes O'Connor of the Northwest Mounted to take them back. And as man and wife and child, bear and dog, start down on the trail that leads straight to the gallows their whole wide world bursts into flame.

A forest fire so real that it staggers you! A battle through so fierce that it awes you. And a finish so fine that you'll cheer it!

You'll have to come early if you want to get in.

See these wild animals in action! Something else to make you remember "Nomads of the North."

MILLION DOLLAR CLAIM PRESENTED

By Tri-County Light, Heat and Power Company to Schoharie Reservoir Commission Which Met Here At Noon.

The Schoharie Reservoir and Shandaken Commission consisting of Messrs. Kelly, Mayham and Shea, appointed by Judge Howard, met at the court house at noon today just as though no other commission had been assigned to any of the cases allotted to them. William H. Grogan represented the corporation counsel; Judge Clearwater, Frank H. Osborn of Catskill and J. L. Patrie of that place represented various claimants.

After the commission had taken the oath of office Judge Clearwater said that among his clients was the Tri-County Light, Heat & Power Company which had filed a claim for upwards of one million of dollars for the taking of the entire power plant, machinery, poles, wires and connections and obliterating its business which had been conducted by the generation of electric energy from the falling waters of the Schoharie river. The case was probably the most important of all the cases in the Schoharie valley; it would demand careful trial and close attention upon the part of the commissioners, involving as it would a large amount of expert testimony which would be given by some of the most competent electrical experts in the country. The judge said it was a case that ought not to be tried in a disjected manner, that the hearings should be consecutive and not interrupted by adjournments. He suggested, therefore, the selection of two weeks at least during which the commission could devote its entire time to the hearing of the case.

After the members of the commission had consulted their engagement books, they decided to begin on Monday, the 20th of June, and to sit during that entire week and all of the following week. This will bring the commission up to the fourth of July. Mr. Grogan said he would be unable to go on during the first and second weeks of July and thereupon it was agreed to adjourn the session of the 18th of July and to take the whole of the week following.

Mr. Osborn and Mr. Patrie stated their cases were shorter and they arranged for hearings at such times as would suit the convenience of the commission during the second week in May when the trial term of the Supreme court will be sitting here, before which Judge Clearwater and Mr. Grogan will be engaged. When the judge was asked how the order of Judge Hinman appointing another commission would affect the action of the Kelly-Mayham-Shea commission, he said that so far as his cases were concerned they would not be at all affected and that he had no connection with the Delaware & Eastern Railroad Company.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE.

Everybody Asked Mercy For Erickson of Pine Hill.

This morning in county court Bartell Erickson of Pine Hill, charged with stealing an automobile at Pine Hill, changed his former plea of not guilty to guilty. Chris J. Flanagan, attorney for defendant, asked that in imposing sentence the court be as lenient as possible. Erickson had always borne a good reputation in the village of Pine Hill and several of the citizens of the village had written letters in which they offered to keep an eye on the young man and see that he kept out of trouble in the future. The complainant in the case also desired to give Erickson another chance and Judge Mister, who held Erickson for the action of the grand jury, recommended giving the prisoner another chance.

The sentence of the court was that Erickson be confined to the reformatory at Elmira but that execution of the sentence be suspended and Erickson was paroled in the custody of T. F. Clifford of Pine Hill and the sheriff. He is to report at least twice a month to Mr. Clifford for 18 months.

GERMANY DOUBLES FORMER OFFER

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, April 26.—Germany has more than doubled the capital sum of indemnity offered to the allies in her proposals at the London conference, it was revealed here today when a summary of the note to the United States overnment was made public.

Germany proposes to pay the capital sum of 50,000,000,000 gold marks which with annual interest payments and possibly other installments will bring the sum total to approximately 200,000,000,000 gold marks by the time the period of payments has elapsed. These figures are identical with those contained in an International News Service cablegram transmitted yesterday. They were adopted by the German cabinet Saturday night and discussed throughout Sunday without material change.

The amount which Germany promises to pay, guaranteed by pledges, equals approximately $48,000,000,000 or about $5,500,000 less than the sum demanded by the allies at Paris. The original demand of the allies was for 226,000,000,000 gold marks in gold and goods not counting the 12 per cent tax upon German exports.

Chance For Our B. S. L.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, April 26.—It may seem strange, but the trans-Atlantic liner George Washington, being refitted as a palatial passenger ship, is looking for the biggest liar in existence. He is to be the official spinner of sea tales and romance for the benefit of passengers, so the latter won't annoy the crew for such tales. A competition is to be held to select the most interesting liar.

Another Volstead Law Switch.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 26.—Virtual abandonment of the present prohibition enforcement machinery and the transfer of its functions to the department of justice, is authorized in a bill introduced in the house today by Representative Hill of Maryland. He announced that he would try to get his bill before the judiciary committee at the time Representative Volstead's latest amendment, prohibiting beer and wine as medicine, is taken up by that body.

Sugar Prices Reduced.

MARINE STRIKE SEEMS CERTAIN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 26.—Leaders in the marine unions held out little hope today that the conference called here tomorrow by Admiral Benson, chairman of the United States Shipping Board, will be able to avert a marine strike.

"There will be a strike on May 1, all right" said William S. Brown, president of the marine engineers association. "It looks as though the men will have to tie up our ships in order to show the owners that they will not accept reductions in wages."

Rumors were current in labor circles today that if there is a marine strike there may be unofficial "walk-outs" among some groups of railroad workers.

ODDS AND ENDS.

At St. Mark's A. M. E. Church, Foxhall avenue, Wednesday evening, April 27, a clam chowder supper will be served by Sister M. C. Brodhead and Sister F. M. Van Dyke in the church from 6 to 10 o'clock for the benefit of the stewards.

On Thursday evening the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist Church will have charge of the prayer meeting service and immediately after the prayer meeting there will be a short business meeting of the society, also a special meeting of the music committee. All Endeavorers are asked to make a special effort to attend both the prayer service and the business meeting.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Martin-Barritt.

Raymond J. Martin and Miss Marion Barritt, were quietly married by the Rev. Joseph G. Cushman at St. Mary's rectory, Saugerties, Saturday evening, April 23. The attendants were John A. Martin and Mrs. Frank Russell, mother of the bride. Mr. Martin is the proprietor of Martin's Pharmacy, Saugerties, and Mrs. Martin is a well known registered graduate nurse. Their numerous friends will wish for them many years of happy wedded life. Mr. and Mrs. Martin are occupying their newly furnished home on Main street, Saugerties.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

Helen Montigni, waitress at the Opera Lunch, Fair street, is spending a few days with friends in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Levi Elmendorf was removed from 72 Clinton avenue to the Kingston City Hospital in the ambulance this morning.

N. R. Murphy and son, Richard have returned to their home in Ridgefield Park, N. J., after spending a short time with Mrs. Robert Murphy on East Chester street.

Bandits Rob Messengers.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Jersey City, N. J., April 26.—Armed bandits held up two bank messengers at Union Hill, N. J., today and took a box containing cash and checks amounting to $5,248. About $5,000 was cash. The messengers, William Tiernan and W. F. Wolf, are employed by the Hudson Trust Company, West Hoboken, and were leaving a building when attacked. The bandits escaped in an automobile.

Lewis Continues To Improve.

Albert W. Lewis, the nightwatchman at the R-G-R store, who was brutally assaulted the night of April 8, continues to improve at the Kingston City Hospital. His mind is a blank as far as the events of the night when he was assaulted is concerned, and he has no recollections of being struck. The mystery surrounding the assault is still an unsolved one.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

ONE OF LEGION'S FOUNDERS

Walter H. A. Coleman, Adjutant London Post, No. 1, Organized Body in British Capital.

Although he is thousands of miles from National Headquarters, Walter H. A. Coleman, adjutant of London Post No. 1 of the American Legion, is in close touch with the entire Legion program. Mr. Coleman was one of the founders of the Legion at its first caucus in Paris and organized the post in the British capital.

Born in Philadelphia, Pa., Mr. Coleman was educated in private schools in that city and in New York. During his business experience in various departments of the Pennsylvania railroad, he lived in Philadelphia, New York City, Albany, N. Y., Indianapolis, Ind., and Bethlehem, Pa.

During the war Mr. Coleman served in the American Destroyer Flotilla, which had its base at Queenstown, Ireland. Since the war he has been connected with the United States Embassy in London.

London Post of the Legion took a leading part in decorating the graves of American soldiers buried in England Memorial Day, 1920.

HAS HUSTLING LABOR BUREAU

Nashville, Tenn., Post Tackles Hard Problem and Makes Most Efficient Showing.

In accordance with the general activity of American Legion posts in meeting the unemployment crisis as it affects the ex-service man, Nashville, Tenn., Post has tackled the situation with a considerable degree of Argonne enthusiasm.

An employment bureau has been established in charge of a Legion member who devotes his full time to it. Both job applicants and employers seeking men are listed in a card index, according to their abilities and needs.

When a man applies at the Legion headquarters for a job, he is required to fill out a blank giving the following information: Name, address, place of birth, married or single; if he is an ex-service man, if he has dependents, special training and schools attended, with the extent of the education gained.

Trade test questions are: "Can you speak any foreign language;" "Do you understand card-index system;" "Can you operate a switchboard;" "Can you use a typewriter efficiently;" "Are you good at figures;" "Can you run an automobile or truck."

Trades included in the list of job applicants for one day were electrician, druggist, salesman, accounting clerk, bookkeeper, draughtsman, insurance salesman, machinist and mattress maker.

When the job seeker has filed his application, he is given a card to show that he has registered with the Legion bureau. When he is sent to an employer in response to a call, he is given a card of introduction stating that he is sent by the Legion bureau. His original application, together with the secretary's indorsement or estimate of the man, is forwarded to the prospective employer.

By arrangement with the negro post of the Legion, the employment bureau is able to answer calls for negro labor, applicants for work being listed with the negro secretary.

The work of the employment bureau is supported by funds available in the Legion treasury from a post show given last year. Another entertainment will be given soon to raise money for further operation of the bureau.

STATE JOBS FOR VETERANS

Chairman Woman's Auxiliary Committee of New York Asserts World War Men Should Be Honored.

"If any class is favored in handing out state jobs it should be the veterans of the World war."

The speaker was Miss Ray C. Sawyer, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary Committee of the New York Department of the American Legion. Her audience was composed of members of the New York Assembly judiciary committee. Miss Sawyer spoke before the committee in behalf of a bill to give preference to veterans in civil service employment in New York. The bill was backed by the New York Legion organization.

Tariff Hearings Completed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 26.—Hearings on the emergency tariff bill were completed today in the senate finance committee, and Senator Penrose, chairman of the committee, indicated that there was nothing to prevent the measure being reported to the senate this week.

LEGION MEN WANT P. M. FIRED

Lincoln (Neb.) Post Takes Exceptions to Government Official's Demand for Use of German.

A resolution requesting the government to relieve Henry C. Jarms, postmaster of Emerald, Neb., from his office was passed by Lincoln (Neb.) Post No. 3 of the American Legion, as a result of the postmaster's efforts to supplant the American language by the German language in a church of Emerald.

The trouble started when the pastor of the church invited two Legion members to deliver patriotic addresses in the church. When the speakers appeared, Jarms objected to their presence and called for a vote of the congregation to decide whether they should be ousted. It was the will of the majority that the Legionnaires should not be heard. After the vote, the Legion members quietly left the church.

The pastor, whose invitation to the Legion men was made in an endeavor to conciliate the pro-German and American elements of his church in their controversy over the use of the American or German language, then took the floor and expressed his surprise at the turn of events and left the meeting.

In commendation of the patience of the American Legion members a Lincoln newspaper expresses the following sentiment in its editorial columns:

"The policy of the Legion to send speakers to address meetings on invitation only and to teach Americanism by example rather than by force, has everything to commend it. The small groups of unassimilated foreigners in this country can readily be curdled into compact masses by hate. On the other hand, they can be dissolved in time by patience and friendship. The American Legion is honoring the name it bears when it adopts the latter course."

MEMORIAL AT CLINTON, MICH.

Peiper Post Unveils Monument in Honor of Veterans Who Served in Last Four Wars.

Frederick E. Peiper Post of the American Legion at Clinton, Mich., has unveiled a monument erected by the post in honor of sons of Clinton who served in the last four wars of the country.

Memorial to Men of Four Wars.

Patriotic citizens of the town donated a plot of ground surrounding the monument, which will be converted into a beautiful park. The monument is built of stone with a bronze tablet bearing the following inscription:

"In Memoriam—Dedicated to her sons who gave their lives for Freedom's cause in four wars, by the village of Clinton, the Mexican War 1846, War of the Rebellion 1861-1865, Spanish-American War 1898, Great World War 1914-1918."

WOULD AID G. A. R. VETERAN

Schuyler (Neb.) Post Endeavoring to Assist Grand Army Man Who Has Been Stricken.

The gratitude and loyalty of members of the American Legion to their comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic is illustrated by the Legion post at Schuyler, Neb., which is endeavoring to obtain aid for a Civil war veteran of that city, who is suffering from cancer.

"The post is in need of advice as to how we can assist this hero of another war," the post commander writes. "He is stopping with relatives, who are doing all they can, but since they have to employ a nurse, I know that they cannot continue to care for him because of lack of funds.

"Now, we would like to have you take it up and see if something can't be done for the old veteran. This is a worthy case and I believe anything the Legion can do for the old boys who wore the blue will be appreciated. There are but a few of them left, and I think the Legion would do well to look after them since no one else will do so."

In Harmony With Legion.

Following an address by Robert A. LaRoux, national field organizer of the American Legion before a joint session of both houses of the Nevada legislature, C. W. Farrington, state organizer for the American Federation of Labor in Nevada, and a number of union members of the bodies stated that they were in harmony with the Legion's policies and that their organization stood with the Legion in its fight against radicalism.

Gasoline Lower in Chicago.

Immigrants' Money Sent Abroad Helps Our Foreign Trade, Says Banker

Noted Economist Not Disturbed By Outward Money Movement

By GEORGE E. ROBERTS

Vice-President, National City Bank of New York

I AM not disturbed by the reports of large sums of money being taken from the country at this time by returning immigrants. I think it a natural movement, and one calculated to allay excitement over the immigration question. The returning movement largely offsets the incoming movement over which some people are much alarmed, and as for the money they are taking, that is serving a good purpose in helping to correct the exchange situation and sustain our exports.

In the first place, the presumption is that every dollar taken out of this country by immigrants has been honestly earned by the creation of its equivalent of wealth here. If that is true we have lost nothing on the immigrant who returns, and have gained by the contribution he has made to the permanent development work which we have needed.

In the second place, he seldom takes cash abroad with him; the most advantageous way to take his capital is by converting it into the depreciated currencies of Europe at the high premium which our money commands. If he takes our paper money with him that is what he will do on the other side, and our money will come back. Whether converted here or there it creates credits in this country which enable the foreign countries to make purchases here.

We have all been wondering how the enormous trade balance of the United States was being settled. Of course, in all calculations allowance has been made for the remittances of immigrants and the amounts the returning ones were taking, but very likely we have not allowed enough. At any rate, the immigrant's money is a very large factor in sustaining our export business at this moment, and it could not be put to better use. He is a saving link between Europe and America; a great factor of flexibility in our relations, and of enormous mutual benefit.

I am not in favor of restricting immigration at this time. If it is true that millions want to come, the idea of letting them die of starvation on our door step is repugnant to every instinct of humanity. It is not true that we cannot care for all who will come or find work for them. Even if it were true, as has been loosely asserted, that 15,000,000 people in Europe want to come to the United States, there are not enough ships in service or likely to be in service to transport more than approximately the pre-war average number of immigrants to our shores.

If there be no means whereby a flood of immigration may come, it is scarcely worth mentioning the other economic factors, such as lack of funds by great numbers to pay passage and the business depression in this country. The impoverished condition of the people of Europe is such as to preclude the possibility of any unusual movement across the seas, and there is reason to believe that the present industrial depression in this country will operate to discourage immigration as similar conditions always have in the past.

We simply can't get along without labor from abroad. There will always be room in this country for foreign labor. If those who desire to come to us, could come, they would be an economic asset. In the past century probably 75 per cent of our population was the result of immigration and yet we are now without the man-power necessary to perform the rough work that must be done. We don't grow anybody in this country to do that work. The children of the foreigners now here will come out of our schools, as the children of past immigration have come, aspiring to and fitted for a higher order of tasks than their fathers performed.

Who, then, is to do the rough work on our railroads, in our mines, on our streets, in our mills and lumber camps and on our farms, if those abroad who want to do that work are barred from the country?

One of our great problems is to increase food production and it will continue to be a great problem. Many farmers of Europe would naturally till the soil here, if they were directed to it instead of the industrial centers.

There are lands here to be cleared and brought under cultivation. Millions of acres of cut-over lands await development. Who is to do this, if we keep out the Europeans who would welcome the opportunity to do the pioneer work necessary to make these waste places bloom?

It may be remarked, in passing, that intelligent and broad policies, upon the part of those who hold title to these lands, in dealing with the immigrants who would settle upon them, are a necessary factor to success.

Our population is steadily growing and our food supply is not keeping pace with this increase. The deputy commissioner of immigration of North Dakota told the Senate Immigration Committee that there are 20,000,000 acres in that state not under cultivation "simply because we haven't sufficient people to cultivate them."

A distinguished witness before that committee boasted that his father, an immigrant, had worked as a track-hand on the Northern Central Railroad. The son, who testified, is a prominent New York attorney.

We, ourselves, are much to blame if we have failed properly to assimilate the immigrant, for, as a rule, those who have come have been willing to work hard, save, educate their children and, in a word, been productive factors.

I am, therefore, fully in accord with the movement to assure an impartial, official study of all the facts relating to the effects of past and probable effects of future immigration upon our national development. The problem has not had the consideration it deserves at the hands of our people and we are now at the position of adopting temporary expedients as a result.

Note—This article is one of a series by leading authorities who are co-operating in a nation-wide effort to arouse the public to a realization of the need, so strikingly pointed out by Frances A. Kellor in her recent work, "Immigration and the Future," for an adequate official study of all phases of the immigration problem.

SOCIETY NOTES.

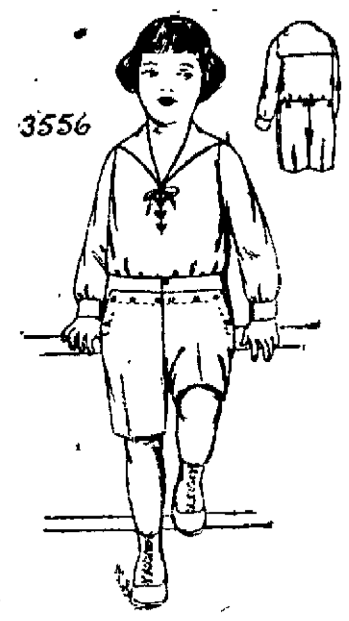
Charles G. Van Etten of 422 Hasbrouck avenue entertained a number of his gentlemen friends at dinner last evening, it being his birthday, which he was reminded of many times during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Radenberg were delightfully surprised on Sunday evening when on returning home from church a number of their friends had gathered at their home to help them celebrate their 33rd wedding anniversary. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Reis, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Stout, Mr. and Mrs. William Reis, Mr. and Mrs. John Reis, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Huber, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Reis, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George Schupp, Jr., and children and the Misses Gertrude, Tillie and Maria Huber, Joseph Gehringer, Augustus Winter and Otto Short.

Twentieth Century Club.

The closing meeting for the season of the Twentieth Century Club was held on Monday at the home of Mrs. Bogart on Fair street. The roll call was responded to with selections from Dr. Frank Crane. Then followed two excellent and entertaining papers; one on "Milan Bresica," by Mrs. Dana, the other on "Mantua and Ferrara," by Mrs. Everett. As this was the annual meeting, the election of officers took place and resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Van Tassel; vice-president, Mrs. Wood; secretary, Mrs. Eltinge; treasurer, Miss Ingalls. Announcement as to this club's program for entertaining the federation in May will be made in a later issue of The Freeman.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.



A Comfortable Suit For The Little Boy.

Pattern 3556 is here illustrated. It is cut in 4 sizes, 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. A 6 year size will require 2½ yards of 36 inch material.

One could use drill, jean, or madras for the blouse and flannel, serge or khaki for the trousers, or make the entire suit of serge, gingham, linen, or flannel.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or 1c and 2c stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps for our up-to-date spring and summer 1921 catalogue, containing 550 designs of Ladies', Misses', and Children's Patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 30 of the various, simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Our Growing Population.

The following births were recently reported to the board of health:

Mr. and Mrs. David M. Leach, 20 Summer street, a son, David Francis.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Woerner, 216 Wilbur avenue, a daughter, Thelma Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Flanigan, 65 Gage street, a son, Frederick.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGee Low, Ann street, a son, Joseph Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schechter, 22 St. Mary's street, a son, David.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Brodhead, 146 West Pierpont street, a son, Frank.

To Punish War Culprits.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, April 26.—The first decisive steps in England toward the punishment of German war culprits were taken here today. Depositions from former British war prisoners and other witnesses were taken at Bow Street Court for submission to the German supreme court at Leipzig, which will try the Germans accused of war guilt. German attorneys were present.

"A JEWEL OF CHICAGO" Is Title Applied to Wrigley Building

Wrigley's new office building in Chicago is at the new Boulevard Link Bridge, Michigan avenue and the river and heads the vista looking north on Michigan avenue, so Mr. Wrigley chose a beautiful design which makes the building a decorative feature of the Chicago lake front and harmonizes with the Chicago Beautiful plan.

Wrigley Building

The main building is 16 stories high, surmounted by a tower 42 feet square and rising 398 feet from the street level. This tower will contain a clock with dials on four sides, each 20 feet in diameter and will be surmounted by a searchlight lantern 9 feet in diameter.

The building is covered with enamel finish terra cotta on all four sides. It is regarded as one of the most beautiful buildings in Chicago and people and press are enthusiastic about it. The Chicago Tribune published a picture labeling it a "A Jewel of the Link."

Wrigley also recently completed new factories at Chicago and New York.

All this new construction work in the space of a few years is certainly a tribute to the power of advertising and the accumulative effect of a multitude of 5-cent sales.

Repairing Broadway Hill.

The street department of the board of public works today started the work of relaying the brick on the Broadway hill. This hill has been in bad condition for some time with deep ruts. The brick are being torn up and will be relaid. Automobilists will welcome the repairs to this stretch of the main street.

Reah M. Whitehead

Justice of Peace Reah M. Whitehead of Kings county, Washington, was the first woman admitted to the Washington bar and the first of her sex to be elected to judicial office. She was formerly a stenographer in a Seattle law office and gained a knowledge of legal matters through watching what went on about her, supplemented by night study. For six years she was deputy prosecuting attorney of Seattle.

Price of Bread Reduced.

Bread at 5 cents a loaf is in sight in Kingston. The Mohican Company, at 296 Wall street, which was the first to reduce 10 cent bread in Kingston to 8 cents, announces in a large advertisement in The Freeman tonight the further reduction of two cents, selling a loaf for six cents. The price of cake and rolls is also reduced.

FRANCE TO OCCUPY RUHR IN MAY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, April 26.—France will begin occupation of the Ruhr district of Germany on or immediately after May 1, irrespective of the new German indemnity proposals unless Germany actually begins payment of the 12,000,000,000 gold marks alleged due at present under the terms of the treaty of Versailles, it was learned from a high source this afternoon.

France, backed up by the reparations commission, contends that Germany owes the difference between 8,000,000,000 and 20,000,000,000 gold marks under article 235 of the treaty of Versailles. This article specified that Germany must pay 20,000,000,000 gold marks indemnity in gold or goods by May 1, 1921.

Germany claims she has paid the full amount. The reparations commission declares that only 8,000,000,000 gold marks have been paid. France demanded 1,000,000,000 gold marks of this sum be paid by March 23, but Germany failed to do so.

The foreign office holds that the payment of this sum due by May 1 is distinct from the indemnity sum covered by the proposals sent by Berlin to Washington yesterday.

Premier Briand addressed parliament this afternoon, declaring that France would maintain a firm policy to enforce the indemnity demands covered by the Paris decision. The premier has the complete support of parliament in his stern stand toward Germany upon the question of reparations.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Dept. of this paper. Look for answers in this column?

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. How fast do common mice increase?
2. Please tell me what a spider is.
3. Is our wild canary the same as a goldfinch, and do they belong to the same family?

Answers in Tomorrow's Nature Notes

Answers to Previous Questions.

1. Can lion cubs be raised in captivity?

Many wild animals will not breed in captivity, but in zoological gardens where living conditions are healthful, lion cubs have been reared, and have brought a good price when full grown. Five cubs in one family, occupying a double connecting cage, and showing every symptom of vigor, have been seen in the Bronx Zoological Garden.

2. Can you tell me if there is any harm in putting sea shells in a fresh water aquarium?

Not if the shells are bare and clean, and have had a good soaking to remove the salt they may have collected. You would not want to put into the aquarium anything on the order of a conch shell, for instance, without first making sure that there was no dead animal matter within, to decay and infect the water.

3. Is it true that woodpeckers can run their tongues out beyond the tip of the bill. How can they do it?

The woodpecker tongue is a wonderful bit of apparatus. It is supported by a slender thread-like bone whose front end is a barbed tip. The rear end of the bone is not fast to the skull, but divides into a Y, or two curved tendrills at the back of the head. They pass under, and then up behind the skull, and can slip forward and back. This explains why the tongue can be shot forward beyond the tip of the mandibles, or bill.

Klein's Case Adjourned.

Joseph J. Klein, whose place of business at 114 Broadway, was searched by three federal prohibition enforcement officers Friday evening, April 22, who seized what they allege is whiskey, and then placed him under arrest for violation of the Volstead act, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Hubbard at Albany Monday afternoon, he having been out on bail in the meanwhile. The hearing was adjourned for two weeks, Mr. Klein being released on bail. Chris. J. Flanagan is the attorney for Klein.

Tagging All The Bases.

Babe Ruth won, though the Yankees lost. The bambino slapped out his fifth homer off Walt Johnson.

A single in the eighth inning by LeBourveau brought Wright Stone and R. Miller home giving the Phillies a victory over Boston.

Martin's pitching and Terry's batting featured the cub win at Cincinnati.

Dutch Reuther gave up eight hits to the Giants but he scattered all but three of them while the Robins made things hot for Art Nehf.

While Jim Bagby pitched along swimmingly Ty Cobb switched pitchers to no avail against the Indians.

Tierney's singles in the ninth and tenth enabled the Pirates to trim St. Louis.

Timely slugging by McInnis and Menosky put the winning runs over the platter for the Red Sox against Philadelphia.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to the numerous kind friends and neighbors who were so thoughtful during the illness and at the death of our dear one, Mrs. George L. Snyder. Especially grateful are we for the comforting words and deeds and the offers of autos and for the very handsome and profuse floral offerings. GEORGE L. SNYDER AND FAMILY.—Advertisement

Reduce These Dangerous Swollen Veins

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and bunches to become normal, but also reduces goiter, enlarged glands and wens.

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directions advise and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist can supply you.

First Used by Play Writer.

"When Greek meets Greek" is probably a perversion of the old familiar quotation "When Greeks joined Greeks then was the tug of war," found in act 4, scene 2, "Alexander the Great," by Nathaniel Lee (1655-1692). By this phrase is meant that when one expert fighter meets another expert fighter the result is vigorous strife and the outcome so far as who will win is concerned is in doubt.

Beginning of Modern Menageries.

The ancient Romans and Greeks kept in captivity leopards, lions, bears, elephants, giraffes, camels, rhinoceroses, antelopes, ostriches and crocodiles, held for slaughter at the gladiatorial shows. It is from the great feudal magnates and royal persons who frequently kept menageries of wild animals, aquaria and aviaries that the modern public gardens have their origin.

Chief Executive's Simple Title.

The address of the President [illegible] simply "The President of the Uni[illegible] States." There was debate over the title in the first congress. Some members proposed that he be addressed as "His Excellency," and others were for "His Highness," but a committee reported that "it is not proper to annex any style or title other than [illegible] expressed in the Constitution."
